THE FEVER SITUATION.

The State of Affairs in the Crescent City.

ARE MANY NEW CASES TODAY.

Alarming Situation at Edwards—The Death Rate on the Increase.

THE STRICKEN CITY IN DIRE DISTRESS.

The "Courier-Journal" sums up yesterday's yellow fever situation as follows: "The yellow fever continues to claim new victims in the South. Only five deaths were reported yesterday, but many new cases. Two of the deaths were at Mobile, two at New Orleans and one at Edwards. Six are hopelessly ill at Edwards, and almost the entire male population of the town is stricken. There have been 197 cases reported to date, twenty-one being reported yesterday. At New Orleans there were seven new cases, and ten at Mobile. Suspicious cases of fever are reported at Charon, Miss. The situation here is also a most distressing one, the disease having been reported upon every line of business at New Orleans, though in proportion to the population the disease is milder there than at other places."

New Orleans, Sept. 29.—Seven new cases and two new deaths here today.

Edwards, Miss., Sept. 29.—The mortality in a small yellow fever patients is increasing at an alarming rate. Many new cases have been reported today.

New Orleans, Sept. 29.—The yellow fever situation here continues unfavorably the same. A daily average of eighteen to twenty cases and two deaths has kept up. While there is no sign of an epidemic, the slow progress of the disease has been a source of anxiety to the people, who are anxious to get some relief from the situation. The situation here is also a most distressing one, the disease having been reported upon every line of business at New Orleans, though in proportion to the population the disease is milder there than at other places."

Business is showing feeble signs of revival and the railroads are pushing forward, but no effort is being made to get the situation better. The situation here is also a most distressing one, the disease having been reported upon every line of business at New Orleans, though in proportion to the population the disease is milder there than at other places."

A FAILURE

Is the Strike Method For Settling Labor Troubles,

Says the Resolutions Committee of the Chicago Labor Convention.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—When the report of the committee on resolutions was presented today a big row erupted. A motion was made to adjourn until the 30th of the free conference of the people in the convention felt that the resolution would be embodied in the committee's report. When it was announced today, however, it was nothing about free conference, but instead this clause:

We favor the issue of a strike by the government of the establishment of government savings banks.

The report is about 1,500 words long, and is addressed to the "Labor and Reform Organizations of America." In the introduction it refers to "the battle against monopoly" and speaks of the ballot as the safest means for reform. The report says, among other things:

We admit the failure of the strike method.

We favor a series of national conventions to which we invite the friends of labor in a movement looking toward political action.

We recognize the necessity of strikes, but the most effective strike is the ballot-box.

A NEW LAW

Governing Corporations—More Responsibility Put Upon the Directors.

Stockholders Made Liable to the Extent of Their Holdings—Special Charter Features Are Abrogated.

The new corporation law went into effect yesterday. All special privileges are abrogated and all corporations are on the same footing, so far as the stockholders are concerned. When the new corporation statutes were passed, they contained this declaration:

"Section 573.—The provisions of all charters and articles of incorporation, whether granted by special act of the general assembly or obtained under any general incorporation law, which are inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter concerning corporations, to the extent of such conflict and all powers, privileges and immunities of any corporation which could not be obtained under the provisions of this chapter shall stand repealed on September 28, 1897."

Then follows provisions making it a misdemeanor for any officer or director of a corporation to attempt to evade the provisions of the law by any means, and a fine of from $100 to $1,000 on conviction.

The new provisions of the law concerning changes in the law of corporations are contained in Sections 543, 549 and 550, which make the directors liable for the debts of the corporation if they declare or pay a dividend when the company is insolvent, or make a dividend by paying a dividend. They are also made liable for all damages that result from any false statement as to the condition of the company given out or published with their assent. They are also made liable for any loss resulting from a violation by them of any provision of the act and subject to a fine of from $100 to $1,000. Section 547 provides that the stockholders shall be individually liable to the creditors of the corporation. It is insolvent, to the extent of their holding of stocks in the corporation.

Section 551 provides for a representation of a majority of stockholders in the election of directors, and a stockholder, if he chooses to vote, may sue for one director, as his holding of stock multiplied by the number of directors to be elected. (Louisville Times.)

CAESAR BETRAYED.

He Sold a Stove That Belonged to J. W. Gleaves.

Disorderly Dancer Fined—Other Cases Aired in Police Court Today.

Caesar Rogers, colored, has found a way to get out of jail. He sold a stove before yesterday that didn't belong to him, but to a couple of dukes. He would be the first to come up to the law, but he was too smart for that.

Whereas, The laws of nature require that at some period of man's career all life shall cease;

Whereas, Mr. W. H. Brian, who departed this life September 27, has been a good and faithful member of the Paducah school board during the past twenty years; and

Whereas, He has taken a very active part in the education of the colored youth of our city ever since they came under the supervision of the Board of Education in 1882; therefore be it

Resolved, That we, the colored teachers of Paducah, in behalf of the schools, mourn his loss.

ARTHUR PEARSON

On Trial in the Marshall County Circuit Court

For the Murder of Ben Smith One Year Ago—The Evidence Being Heard.

The case against Arthur Pearson, charged with the murder of Ben Smith, on county court day last October, is on trial in the circuit court here today.

The jury was sworn this morning, and the evidence at once begun. It will likely consume a day or two.

The Franklin case, as told in yesterday's Sun, was postponed until Friday, and the sheriff was ordered to summon 120 men from the county to select a jury from.

CIRCUS IN CALLOWAY.

There is More Than One Knows It Was There.

The circus at Murray last Friday will probably be long remembered by more than one resident of Calloway county. The following extracts are from the Calloway Times of this week, and need no explanation:

"One good citizen who had just purchased a brand new pair of $4 shoes and tramping around seeing the sights the new shoes hurt his feet so bad he pulled them off to rest his feet. He set them down just inside the tent while he looked at the animals; when he returned his new shoes were gone, likewise happiness for the balance of the day."

Chas. Jones, a colored youth was getting high on having a good time, and in order to do so was caught by the Marshal dispensing red liquor, and matched off to the county bastille, and thus missed all further fun for the day—and perhaps for several days to come.

We, the citizens of Kirksey, are offering a reward of two nickles for the return of one blacksmith, James E. Jackson. He left Kirksey last Tuesday evening to go to the show, and when last heard from was in a little side show having his fortune told. It is feared he is lost to us forever.

Nick Pearson is considerably better, that knot on his head is now about the size of a goose egg, where the show man hit him with a tent pole. Nick was anxious to see the whole thing and got in the way, and there was no one to look after him, so he got the knot. He will know better next time.

Got His Hide Full of Lead.

Asron Galloway, a negro, was shot and dangerously wounded by John Jones, a white man, near Pine Bluff, Calloway county, yesterday. Galloway was watching the crops of Jones and a woman in the woods, and the white man became indignant and shot his pistol. The darkey may die.

WRITTEN AT RANDOM.

Capt. Eph Ballowe says that there are some uncommonly green people up Duck river, a small tributary of the Tennessee.

A few years ago the captain took a small steamer up to the headwaters of the little river during high water. He went up as far as the stream, swollen to greater proportions than had ever been known before, was navigable, and blew his whistle at some little village that probably was not near the river, but an inland town during low water. The natives were almost unexcited, and when they heard the steamboat whistle their conversation knew no bounds, and they ran to and fro in the greatest alarm.

Some of them had seen a steamboat before, but a majority of them had not, and when they at length, through the assurance of the former, conquered fear, they ventured down, in large numbers, to the strange looking thing with smoking chimneys and a wheel behind it, and curiosity inspected it. The captain was treated so royally that he remained in port three days.

On the third day, however, a man boarded the boat in excitement and a sort of homespun, and called for the captain.

"I'm the captain," replied Capt. Ballowe.

"Send her up," responded the captain, hospitably.

"She won't come; ye'll haf ter go down thar," said the husband.

The accommodating captain went down and found an anguished looking female, apparently in great distress. She implored him in her simple vernacular to "sary" that that thing down thar "sary." Her boys disappeared from home three days before, she would not explain, and she had just found them, while hunting for head's nests, one in a hollow stump and the other in a hollow log. They were 21 years old, but had never seen a steamboat, and when they heard that boat whistle three days before both ran and concealed themselves for security where they were found, and stoutly refused to emerge until the boat had gone. The captain left with his boat to placate the anxious mother, and has never been back since because the river hasn't been high enough, he says.

Just as I was yesterday delivered a woman "roars" to that class of rising young "spots" who make practice of spending their time around houses of ill-repute. As a consequence of the inevitable corruption and degeneracy of such associations, he had before him a youth not near out of the pet of a woman at one of the palaces of iniquity, and at last he fell a victim to her viciousness. She had in him a sudden fit of anger, and while under the influence of liquor, through lie arm, and perhaps it was due principally to chance rather than to choice that the wound was not worse. As it was, however, the young man was disfigured publicly before the courts and involved in the disgraceful imbroglio, while the evidence developed the fact that he had kept up his associations with the woman for a year, and he hardly out of his ribs, as the court took occasion to say. It was no fault of his parents, for they had exerted every means, even to waiving the propriety of the house not to admit him, to keep him away. Boys at this age are too big to whip, at least whipping has gone out of style—they are too young to run at large without some restraint, and can't be kept in jail. The question is, what is to be done with them?

An elderly gentleman hung supinely over the iron fence in front of the handsome Langstaff residence on Broadway the other morning.

"I've found out something I'll bet no other man in the world ever found out before," the old man observed to another gentleman who was passing.

The latter turned and saw the old fellow gazing intently into the fountain in the center of the yard. In the middle of the fountain is a miniature water mill, the two wheels of which are turned by the water slowly percolating through two small tubes.

"What is it you've done?" asked the pedestrian, with some little interest.

"I've found out how many drops of water it takes to turn that wheel around once," he replied. "I had to count three times to do it, but I've found out that it takes 723 drops of water."

The old fellow was, of course, right, as it is possible for a person possessing patience to count the falling drops. But he had counted three times—over 2000 drops of water.

There is one thing a train conductor does not countenance, and this is "counting" over the wire. As the moral effect of "counting" by the electric, it takes up too much valuable time.

It is told in telegraph circles that

Supt. Dugan, of the Postal, recently suspended an operator at Princeton, Ky., for saying to the chief dispatcher here that he "had to do a little business." He was given thirty days, and if he had prefixed his Maker's name to the implication he would doubtless got a life sentence.

Col. Bud Dale, of McCracken county, who was at one time a Populist leader, seems now to be one of the leading farmers. He is the first man in his county, and perhaps the first in the Purchase to finish sowing wheat. It is safe to say he finds it more paying to lead the farmers than the Populists. [Mayfield Mirror.]

Col. Dale is not only a prosperous farmer, but a persevering politician as well. In addition he comes to the city every day, clerks in one of the largest establishments here, and drives eight miles home every night, rain or shine.

With Annie Ramsey in the penitentiary and Alice Duncan married, Paducah has been shorn of two of her most degenerate females.

The police can now heave a sigh of relief. Their faces will be missed in police circles, and "Tin Can alley" will know them no more.

But speaking of marriages, the one performed in Justice Wheeler's office yesterday was a "match." The Duncan woman was bride, while some young buck, in all probability a stranger, was groom. The bride sneezed continually during the reading of the ceremony, while the groom indifferently puffed at a cigarette.

"Do you take this woman to be your wedded wife?" asked the Justice.

No response.

"Answer!" prompted the Justice.

"What mus' I say?"

"Say 'Yes.'"

"Yes!" he cried.

Then it came the bride's time to answer, which she did between giggles.

The couple went away, but in front of the city hall the bride patted cooped, and the police rushed out to get a last look at the bride.

"Ah wish you much joy," shouted one female, as she snatched off, and with a grateful giggle Alice and her husband saluted the police and disappeared on one side of the pavement and the other on the opposite, followed by the "best man," who had purchased a new tin bucket, to be used as a "growler" in the ensuing festivities.

It is the earnest wish of the police

Work is rapidly progressing on Capt. Jacob's new boat.

Several of the old river men when expressing their views of the present low water, yesterday afternoon, said they had seen the river at a considerable lower stage, but never before had they experienced such quiet times although they all seem to think that when the river comes up river business will be abundant.

The Maggie Belle was pulled out on the docks this morning for some slight repairs.

The A-land City was let off the docks yesterday afternoon and left for Danville on time at 10 this morning.

The Broecker and Buttrif which were due here early this morning had not put in their appearance at a late hour.

Capt. Alex. Woolfolk, pilot on the ferry boat, after being off for several days, owing to sickness, again went to work this morning. The boat is now making four trips to Brooklyn daily.

POSTMASTER WEST

Paid His Shortage Under Protest—Thinks His Accounts Are Correct.

Inspector Vickery was here last Monday in the regular course of business and looked over the business of the office, says the Mayfield "Mirror," in speaking of the postoffice affairs.

If he discovered any discrepancy in Mr. West's account at that time he said nothing; but went away and returned again last Saturday, when he claimed to have discovered the account in the business here were out of balance. He claims to have discovered errors of about $600 in the last quarter's business which ended July 1. District Attorney Smith was here also representative of the government, and they decided Sunday to depose Mr. West and no longer his bondsman of the conclusion about noon Sunday.

The sureties, who are W. S. Cook, J. W. Griffith, R. E. G. Smith, D. G. Park and B. F. Holson, met and selected O. B. Happy to take charge of the postoffice until a new man is appointed by the government. The alleged shortage has been settled in full, but was under protest by Mr. West and his sureties, as they think the accounts are correct, at least up to the end of last quarter July 1, when he received a quietus; and they will make further investigation of the matter.

Mr. Happy was selected by the sureties to take charge because he was familiar with the duties of the office, and he was the most available man. Mr. West's term expired in April, and he has been merely holding over to await the settlement of the squabble between O. B. Happy and L. W. Key, who are both applicants for the place.

The Temple of Tea.
Nine babies of assorted colors and sizes were brought out from Kansas City one day lately and turned over to the Shalom colony near Las Cruces, N. M. This is the fourth consignment of infants that has reached the colony here, and at present about 20 parentless little waifs are being cared for here under the direction of a peculiar religious sect, who term themselves "Faithists." The colony was established about 15 years ago by the once noted Dr. Tanner. He is still the moving spirit in the undertaking, and is assisted by John B. Newbrough and A. M. Howland, of Boston. All property is held in common by the colonists, and their diet consists of vegetable matter only. Howland is the chief spiritual adviser, and is the author of the colony's Bible, which the New Mexican supreme court has declared, in deciding a suit, to be a most remarkable, illogical and incongruous publication. The house of worship is called "the temple of tea," and the principal hymn sung to the strain of "Dixie."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Work is rapidly progressing on Capt. Jacob's new boat.

Several of the old river men when expressing their views of the present low water, yesterday afternoon, said they had seen the river at a considerable lower stage, but never before had they experienced such quiet times although they all seem to think that when the river comes up river business will be abundant.

The Maggie Belle was pulled out on the docks this morning for some slight repairs.

The A-land City was let off the docks yesterday afternoon and left for Danville on time at 10 this morning.

The Broecker and Buttrif which were due here early this morning had not put in their appearance at a late hour.

MILLINERY.
In the millinery section is a collection of tasteful, elegant, latest novelties in women's headgear. A superb gathering of rich materials and hats and bonnets that will delight all lovers of the beautiful, and at prices that can't be nearly matched for such materials and exquisite styles.

UNDERWEAR AND HOSIERY.
We have outdone all our former efforts in gathering good underwear and good hosiery, to be sold at truly bargain prices.

Ladies' union suits never sold before for less than 75c are here for 50c. Misses' and children's union suits never sold before for less than 50c are here for 25c.

Ladies' vests and drawers for 15c and 20c that are marvels of goodness and cheapness.

We have gathered a great stock of the celebrated Oxya hosiery that can't be matched outside of this store in quality and bargains at 12 1/2c, 15c, 20c and 25c.

Don't forget that our Model Form corsets is the best on earth for 50c, $1.00 and $1.25.

MEN'S SHOES AND WOMEN'S SHOES.
Staple, serviceable shoes, made to resist the hard knocks of wear. All shoes will wear out, but we put more real value in $1.50 and $2.00 shoes than it is customary to put in $2.00 and $3.00 shoes.

Our ironclad school shoes at $1.00 and $1.25 have greater merit than any we know of on the market at these prices.
